https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Rankings\_of\_universities\_in\_ChinaFrom Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia
As of 2025, China had the world's highest number of top universities in several international rankings including the Academic Ranking of World Universities (ARWU), the US News and World Report Best Global University Ranking, the Center for World University Rankings (CWUR), the University Ranking by Academic Performance, the CWTS Leiden Ranking, and the SCImago Institutions Rankings.<sup>[1][2][3][4][5][6]</sup>

Universities and colleges being part of the Double First-Class Construction (147 public universities nationwide) are considered to be the most elite institutions of Chinese tertiary education, representing the top 5% of overall universities and colleges in Mainland China (approximately 3,000 higher education institutions).<sup>[7][8]</sup> Regardless of universities in China being involved in a variety of university rankings, the Ministry of Education of China does not advocate or recognize any ranking published by other institutions.<sup>[9]</sup>

Rankings distribution

Global

As of 2025, China had the world's highest number of top universities in the Academic Ranking of World Universities (ARWU), the US News and World Report Best Global University Ranking, the Center for World University Rankings (CWUR), the University Ranking by Academic Performance, the CWTS Leiden Ranking, and the SCImago Institutions Rankings.<sup>[1][2][3][4][5][6]</sup>

China topped the list with 244 out of 1,000 universities in the 2025 Academic Ranking of World Universities (ARWU).<sup>[10]</sup> The U.S. News & World Report Best Global Universities Ranking 2024-2025 ranked 2250 universities from more than 100 countries/regions: China was again top with 396.<sup>[2]</sup> China topped the list with 346 out of 2,000 universities in the 2025 Center for World University Rankings (CWUR).<sup>[11]</sup> In the 2025 CWTS Leiden Ranking, China had the largest number of universities including in the ranking with 365 out of 1,594 universities from more than 77 countries/regions.<sup>[12]</sup> The University Ranking by Academic Performance 2024-2025 shortlisted 3,000 research universities in the ranking: China topped the list, with 495 universities.<sup>[6]</sup> China was also the most-represented nation overall in the SCImago Institutions Rankings 2025 list with 634 universities.<sup>[13]</sup> More than 2,500 universities in China are ranked in the Webometrics Ranking of World Universities out of almost 31,000 institutions, including in the ranking worldwide.<sup>[14]</sup>

There were 13 universities from Mainland China on lists of the global top 100 in the 2025 Shanghai Ranking's ARWU, behind only the United States in terms of the overall representation. Among them, Mainland China had four universities listed within the global top 30, tied with the UK and second only to the United States.<sup>[15]</sup> In the 2026 Times Higher Education World University Rankings, Mainland China had a notable presence with 2 universities listed within the global top 15.<sup>[16]</sup> This positioning placed Mainland China behind only the United States (9) and the United Kingdom (3) in terms of overall representation.<sup>[16]</sup> As of 2025, there were 2 Chinese universities in the global top 20, 5 in the top 50, and 19 in the top 200, behind only the United States and the United Kingdom in terms of the overall representation in the Aggregate Ranking of Top Universities, a composite ranking system combining three of the world's most influential university rankings (ARWU+QS+ THE).<sup>[17]</sup>

Regional

China has dominated the QS BRICS University Rankings and the THE's Emerging Economies University Rankings since their inception, claiming 7 of the top 10 spots for both rankings. China is also the most-represented nation overall.<sup>[18][19]</sup> In 2020, China tops the QS Asia University Rankings list with over 120 universities including in the ranking, and five Chinese universities appear in the Asia Top 10, which is more than any other country.<sup>[20]</sup> As of 2024, the Academic Ranking of World Universities (ARWU) included a total of 13 universities from China within its world top 100 list.<sup>[21]</sup> Similarly, the Times Higher Education Rankings also featured seven universities from China within its global top 100 list.<sup>[22]</sup> Notably, this level of representation in both rankings positioned China as the country with the highest overall presence in the Asia & Oceania region.<sup>[21][22]</sup>

National

China is home to over 3,000 institutions of higher education. Within this vast landscape, around 147 universities as part of the Double First-Class Construction hold a prominent position as national key universities, while the tier 1 universities consist of the former 985 Project Universities.<sup>[23][24][25]</sup> These universities are widely recognized as some of the most renowned in China and continuously maintain high rankings nationally and globally.<sup>[26]</sup>

In terms of city representation, according to the U.S. News & World Report Best Global University Ranking for 2025, Beijing has the highest number of universities included in the ranking, totaling 29, followed by Shanghai (22) and Xi'an (20), while Nanjing has 18 and Wuhan has 16. Other major cities with notable representation include Chengdu (13), Hangzhou (13), Guangzhou (12), Tianjin (11), Shenyang (10), Nanchang (10), Changsha (9), Dalian (9), Harbin (8), Chongqing (8), Jinan (8), Zhengzhou (8), Hefei (8), Kunming (7), Qingdao (7), and Changchun (7).<sup>[27]</sup>

Rankings of universities in China

There are several comprehensive rankings of universities in China, including Wu Shulian Ranking, made by a team led by Wu Shulian and published in the name of Chinese Academy of Management, Netbig Ranking, made by the higher education internet information company Netbig, and CUAA Ranking, by Airuishen (a company) in the name of Chinese Universities Alumni Association, etc. Shanghai Ruanke compiles both the Best Chinese Universities Ranking (BCUR) and the world university ranking, Academic Ranking of World Universities.<sup>[28]</sup>

In 1987, a ranking of 86 key universities according to Science Citation Index was compiled by Xiao Ming, Chinese Academy of Management Science.<sup>[29]</sup>

It's said that the first comprehensive (exactly, synthetic) ranking of Chinese universities was made by Cai Yanhou, Higher Education Research Institute, Central South University of Technology, in 1989.<sup>[30]</sup> Colleges and universities were ranked in four categories, science (generally comprehensive universities), engineering, agricultural and medical.<sup>[30]</sup>

The Chinese university ranking on research and development in 1991 was published in 1993 by Wu Shulian, Guangdong Academy of Management Science, which was registered in the year 1993 as a private institute and later ceased and was claimed to be the Guangdong branch of Chinese Academy of Management Science. The 1996 ranking was released in 1997, and since then the annual ranking has been released continuously. It's a single list ranking except 1998 ranking, which consists of comprehensive university ranking and technological university ranking, with Nanjing University and Tsinghua University ranking 1st respectively. In 2000, the comprehensive ranking was released under the name Chinese University Assessment. The ranking was later published in the name of Chinese Academy of Management Science.

In 1998, Netbig, or literally Net Universities in abbreviation, a higher education internet information company, released Chinese university ranking.<sup>[31]</sup>

In 2002, Chinese university ranking by Airuishen (a company) was released. The CUAA Ranking, released in the name of Chinese Universities Alumni Association, is said made by Cai Yanhou team.<sup>[32]</sup>

In 2003, a team in Shanghai Jiaotong University, later named Shanghai Ranking (Shanghai Ruanke, literally Shanghai Soft Science in abbreviation), released Academic Ranking of World Universities. Shanghai Ranking also compiles the Best Chinese Universities Ranking (BCUR).<sup>[33]</sup>

Major International Rankings

Bibliometric-based rankings

Annual international rankings of the bibliometric-based rankings include the Academic Ranking of World Universities, the Performance Ranking of Scientific Papers for World Universities, the University Ranking by Academic Performance, the CWTS Leiden Ranking, the SCImago Institutions Rankings, the Center for World University Rankings (CWUR), and the Nature Index Annual Tables published by Nature Research.
